

California Telehealth Network

November 2011 Update

Eric Brown
President & CEO

California Telehealth Network

The California Telehealth Network (CTN) is a statewide broadband network and received the largest single-state award from the FCC Rural Health Care Pilot Program (RHCPP)

- ▶ $22.1 million FCC RHCPP award pays for 85% of eligible site build-out costs
- ▶ $3.6 million California Emerging Technology Fund (CETF) match pays for 15% of eligible site build-out costs
- ▶ Over $10 million in additional funding from multiple sources:
 - United Healthcare,
 - National Coalition for Health Integration,
 - California HealthCare Foundation,
 - University of California,
 - California Public Utilities Commission

The FCC RHCPP funding is to be used by CTN to achieve four unique goals for the state of California

- ▶ Goal 1: Create a statewide broadband network dedicated to health care with explicit QoS, privacy and security
- ▶ Goal 2: Link the CTN to a national backbone
- ▶ Goal 3: Leverage and build upon recent investments in Telehealth
- ▶ Goal 4: Utilize CTN for ongoing disaster preparedness training and response

CTN's Consortium Members are dedicated to providing access to rural and medically underserved communities, improving clinical outcomes, and reducing costs

- ▶ The Office of the Governor
- ▶ The University of California Office of the President
- ▶ The California Emerging Technology Fund (CETF)
- ▶ The California HealthCare Foundation (CHCF)
